Gillingham Parish Church has stood at the centre of the community for hundreds of years. Traditionally it has been the place where the community has come together at times of celebration and joy. Many thousands of couples have stood in this church to seek the blessing of God upon them at the start of their married life.

It is easier to get married here than you might think. You do not have to be a regular church-goer to be married in the parish church.

If one or both of you live in the local area, or have a connection through baptism, or the marriage of parents or grandparents, you are able to get married here.

Or, you can establish a connection through regular attendance at Sunday worship*, where you will be guaranteed a warm welcome.

We offer so much more than simply a wedding service.

As a church we care about the couples coming for marriage, and enjoy getting to know them as they prepare for their big day. We offer each of our couples a marriage preparation day, to help them build a strong and lasting relationship beyond the day itself.
